In order to comply with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), we will inform you whether you are required to provide certain pupil information to us or if you have a choice in this.

Storing pupil data

Pupil data is stored securely and retained according to the Trust's retention schedule. The retention schedule specifies the length of time which the record needs to be retained and the action which should be taken when it is of no further administrative use. Some retention periods are governed by statute; others are guidelines following best practice. Every effort has been made to ensure that retention periods are compliant with the requirements of the GDPR and the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

Who do we share pupil information with?

We routinely share pupil information with:

- schools that our pupils attend after leaving us

- the local authority
- the Department for Education (DfE)
- the school nurse and CCG/NHS

Why we share pupil information

We do not share information about our pupils with anyone outside school without consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so. If we require any further information about pupils or parents, we will explain the reason for this, tell you who we are sharing it with (if applicable) and we will ask the pupil or parent to sign a consent form before any information is used or shared. Once we have used your information for the purpose intended we will destroy this information swiftly and securely.

We share pupils' data with the Department for Education (DfE) on a statutory basis. This data sharing underpins school funding and educational attainment policy and monitoring. We are required to share information about our pupils with the (DfE) under regulation 5 of The Education (Information About Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013.

The National Pupil Database (NPD)

The NPD is owned and managed by the Department for Education and contains information about pupils in schools in England. It provides invaluable evidence on educational performance to inform independent research, as well as studies commissioned by the Department. It is held in electronic format for statistical purposes. This information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and awarding bodies.

We are required by law, to provide information about our pupils to the DfE as part of statutory data collections such as the school census and early years census. Some of this information is then stored in the NPD. The law that allows this is the Education (Information About Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013.

To find out more about the pupil information we share with the department, for the purpose of data collections, go to <https://www.gov.uk/education/data-collection-and-censuses-for-schools>.

- conducting research or analysis
- producing statistics
- providing information, advice or guidance

The Department has robust processes in place to ensure the confidentiality of our data is maintained and there are stringent controls in place regarding access and use of the data. Decisions on whether DfE releases data to third parties are subject to a strict approval process and based on a detailed assessment of:

- who is requesting the data
- the purpose for which it is required
- the level and sensitivity of data requested: and
- the arrangements in place to store and handle the data

To be granted access to pupil information, organisations must comply with strict terms and conditions covering the confidentiality and handling of the data, security arrangements and retention and use of the data.
